

Greetings,
Welcome to PYROTECH 101,

This is a picture of a controlled demolition of a building. The white puffs of what appear to be "smoke" are actually explosive debris generated by explosive shaped charges cutting the main structure of the building. These blown in sequence removes these critical supports in such an order to cause the building to fall in on itself.

2. You will see just below the big cloud of debris a similar puff of explosive debris exiting the building several floors below what is about to collapse. If you have a video of that days events you can see numerous instances of these detonations.

3. In short the planes did NOT bring down the buildings explosives did.
PYROTECH 101, is now over.

4. Dry eyes, say a prayer for victims, their families and our country.
